

|      |         |                                           |              |                                                                                                                                                        |
|------|---------|-------------------------------------------|--------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1978 | 10月 1日  | 山梨医科大学開学                                  | October 1    | Yamanashi Medical University established                                                                                                               |
| 1979 | 4月 27日  | 山梨医科大学校舎起工式を挙行                            | April 27     | Groundbreaking ceremony for Yamanashi Medical University held                                                                                          |
| 1980 | 4月 1日   | 山梨医科大学開校                                  | April 1      | Yamanashi Medical University opened                                                                                                                    |
|      | 4月 7日   | 山梨医科大学が山梨大学校舎内から本学校地に移転                   | April 7      | Yamanashi Medical University transferred from University of Yamanashi building to current location                                                     |
| 1981 | 3月 31日  | 中央機械室竣工                                   | March 31     | Central machine room completed                                                                                                                         |
|      | 4月 1日   | 附属病院創設準備室設置                               | April 1      | Preparation room for founding of university hospital established                                                                                       |
|      | 5月 30日  | 管理棟竣工                                     | May 30       | Construction of management building completed                                                                                                          |
| 1982 | 12月 20日 | 外来診療棟、中央診療棟、東病棟竣工                         | December 20  | Construction of outpatient care ward, central medical care ward, and East Ward completed                                                               |
| 1983 | 4月 1日   | 山梨医科大学医学部附属病院（16診療科4中央診療施設）設置             | April 1      | Yamanashi Medical University Hospital (16 clinical departments, 4 central medical care facilities) established                                         |
|      |         | 初代病院長に岩井正二が就任                             |              | Shoji Iwai appointed first hospital director                                                                                                           |
|      | 10月 1日  | 山梨医科大学医学部附属病院開院                           | October 1    | Yamanashi Medical University Hospital operation started                                                                                                |
|      | 10月 12日 | 診療業務開始（321床）                              | October 12   | Medical care services started (321 beds)                                                                                                               |
| 1984 | 3月 30日  | 高エネルギー治療施設竣工                              | March 30     | Construction of high-energy treatment facility completed                                                                                               |
|      | 4月 1日   | 脳神経外科設置                                   | April 1      | Neurosurgery established                                                                                                                               |
|      | 9月 20日  | 西病棟竣工                                     | September 20 | Construction of West Ward completed                                                                                                                    |
|      | 10月 29日 | 441床に増床                                   | October 29   | Number of beds increased to 441                                                                                                                        |
| 1985 | 3月 7日   | 443床に増床                                   | March 7      | Number of beds increased to 443                                                                                                                        |
|      | 3月 20日  | RⅠ治療棟竣工                                   | March 20     | Construction of RI treatment ward completed                                                                                                            |
|      | 4月 5日   | 600床に増床                                   | April 5      | Number of beds increased to 600                                                                                                                        |
| 1986 | 5月 1日   | 第2代病院長に菅原克彦が就任                            | May 1        | Katsuhiko Sugawara appointed second hospital director                                                                                                  |
| 1988 | 5月 1日   | 第3代病院長に鈴木宏が就任                             | May 1        | Hiroshi Suzuki appointed third hospital director                                                                                                       |
| 1989 | 2月 28日  | MRⅠ－CT装置棟竣工                               | February 28  | Construction of MRI-CT equipment building completed                                                                                                    |
|      | 6月 28日  | 輸血部設置                                     | June 28      | Division of Blood Transfusion established                                                                                                              |
| 1990 | 4月 1日   | 第4代病院長に上野明が就任                             | April 1      | Akira Ueno appointed fourth hospital director                                                                                                          |
| 1992 | 4月 1日   | 第5代病院長に加藤精彦が就任                            | April 1      | Yasuhiko Kato appointed fifth hospital director                                                                                                        |
|      | 4月 10日  | 救急部設置                                     | April 10     | Department of Emergency Medicine established                                                                                                           |
| 1994 | 5月 20日  | 集中治療部設置                                   | May 20       | Department of Critical Care Medicine established                                                                                                       |
| 1995 | 3月 1日   | 特定機能病院承認                                  | March 1      | Hospital approved as "specific functioning hospital"                                                                                                   |
|      | 3月 15日  | エイズ治療拠点病院に指定される                           | March 15     | Hospital designated as "AIDS treatment base hospital"                                                                                                  |
| 1997 | 4月 1日   | 神経内科設置                                    | April 1      | Neurology established                                                                                                                                  |
|      |         | 院内学級開設                                    |              | In-hospital classroom opened                                                                                                                           |
| 1998 | 4月 1日   | 医療情報部設置                                   | April 1      | Medical Care Information Department established                                                                                                        |
|      |         | 第6代病院長に塚原重雄が就任                            |              | Shigeo Tsukahara appointed sixth hospital director                                                                                                     |
| 1999 | 3月 26日  | 特殊診療棟竣工                                   | March 26     | Construction of special medical care ward completed                                                                                                    |
| 2000 | 1月 24日  | 病院機能評価認定（Ver.3）（～H27.1.23）（（財）日本医療機能評価機構） | January 24   | Hospital receives accreditation based on Evaluation of Hospital Functions (Ver. 3) (up to January 23, 2015) (Japan Council for Quality Health Care)    |
|      | 4月 1日   | 病理部設置                                     | April 1      | Department of Pathology established                                                                                                                    |
|      |         | 治験センター設置                                  |              | Clinical Trial Center established                                                                                                                      |
|      |         | 総合診療室設置                                   |              | Comprehensive Medical Care Office established                                                                                                          |
|      | 5月 5日   | 患者満足度調査開始                                 | May 5        | Patient satisfaction surveys started                                                                                                                   |
| 2001 | 4月 1日   | 医療福祉相談室設置                                 | April 1      | Medical Care Consultation Office established                                                                                                           |
|      | 9月 28日  | 地域周産期母子医療センターに認定される                       | September 28 | Hospital certified as "regional medical care center for perinatal mothers and children"                                                                |
| 2002 | 4月 1日   | 運営改善推進室設置                                 | April 1      | Management Improvement and Promotion Office established                                                                                                |
|      | 10月 1日  | 山梨医科大学と山梨大学の統合により山梨大学医学部附属病院に名称変更         | October 1    | Name of hospital changed to "University of Yamanashi Hospital" accompanying merger of Yamanashi Medical University and University of Yamanashi         |
|      |         | 病院経営管理部設置（旧運営改善推進室、旧医療情報部）                |              | Department of Hospital Administration established (former Management Improvement and Promotion Office, and former Medical Care Information Department) |
|      |         | 安全管理部設置                                   |              | Department of Medical Safety Management established                                                                                                    |
|      |         | 卒後臨床研修センター設置                              |              | Postgraduate Clinical Training Center established                                                                                                      |

|      |         |                                       |             |                                                                                                                                               |
|------|---------|---------------------------------------|-------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2002 |         | 分娩部設置                                 |             | Labor and Delivery Department established                                                                                                     |
|      |         | リハビリテーション部設置                          |             | Division of Rehabilitation established                                                                                                        |
|      |         | 血液浄化療法部設置                             |             | Blood Purification Center established                                                                                                         |
|      |         | 光学医療診療部設置                             |             | Department of Endoscopy established                                                                                                           |
|      |         | 第7代病院長に熊澤光生が就任                        |             | Mitsuo Kumazawa appointed seventh hospital director                                                                                           |
|      | 11月 1日  | 通院治療センター設置                            | November 1  | Outpatient Care Center established                                                                                                            |
| 2003 | 4月 1日   | 医療福祉支援センター設置（旧総合診療室、旧医療福祉相談室）         | April 1     | Medical Care Networking Center established (former Comprehensive Medical Care Office, former Medical Care Consultation Office)                |
|      |         | MEセンター設置                              |             | Clinical Engineer center established                                                                                                          |
| 2004 | 4月 1日   | 国立大学法人山梨大学設立                          | April 1     | Yamanashi University established as national university                                                                                       |
|      |         | 医療チームセンター設置                           |             | Center for Medical Team established                                                                                                           |
|      | 10月 1日  | 血液内科設置                                | October 1   | Hematology established                                                                                                                        |
| 2005 | 1月 24日  | 病院機能評価更新（Ver.4）（（財）日本医療機能評価機構）        | January 24  | Evaluation of Hospital Functions renewed (Ver. 4) (Japan Council for Quality Health Care)                                                     |
|      | 4月 1日   | 栄養管理部設置                               | April 1     | Department of Nutritional Management established                                                                                              |
|      |         | 第8代病院長に星和彦が就任                         |             | Kazuhiko Hoshi appointed eighth hospital director                                                                                             |
|      | 10月 1日  | 生殖医療センター設置                            | October 1   | Center for Reproductive Medicine and Infertility established                                                                                  |
| 2006 | 10月 1日  | 腫瘍センター設置（旧通院治療センター）                   | October 1   | Oncology Center established (former Outpatient Care Center)                                                                                   |
| 2007 | 1月 31日  | 地域がん診療連携拠点病院に指定される                    | January 31  | Hospital designated as "regional cancer medical care cooperation base hospital"                                                               |
|      | 4月 2日   | 保育施設（どんぐり保育園）設置                       | April 2     | Childcare facility (Donguri Nursery School) established                                                                                       |
|      | 12月 5日  | 助産師外来開設                               | December 5  | Midwifery outpatient services established                                                                                                     |
| 2008 | 3月 5日   | 肝疾患診療連携拠点病院に指定される                     | March 5     | Hospital designated as "liver disease medical care cooperation base hospital"                                                                 |
|      | 6月 1日   | 肝疾患センター設置                             | June 1      | Liver Disease Center established                                                                                                              |
|      | 9月 1日   | 血液・腫瘍内科設置（旧血液内科）                      | September 1 | Hematology and Oncology established (former Hematology)                                                                                       |
|      |         | 精神科設置（旧精神神経科）                         |             | Psychiatry established (former Neuropsychiatry)                                                                                               |
|      |         | 産婦人科設置（旧産科婦人科）                        |             | Obstetrics and Gynecology established (former Obstetric Gynecology)                                                                           |
|      |         | 頭頸部・耳鼻咽喉科設置（旧耳鼻咽喉科）                   |             | Head and Neck, Ear, Nose and Throat Surgery established (former Ear, Nose and Throat Surgery)                                                 |
|      |         | 輸血細胞治療部設置（旧輸血部）                       |             | Division of Transfusion Medicine and Cell Therapy established (former Division of Blood Transfusion)                                          |
|      |         | 口腔インプラント治療センター設置                      |             | Oral Implant Center established                                                                                                               |
|      | 1月 1日   | 医師キャリア形成センター設置                        | January 1   | Doctor Career Development Center established                                                                                                  |
|      | 4月 1日   | 消化器内科設置（旧第一内科）                        | April 1     | Gastroenterology and Hepatology established (former No. 1 Internal Medicine)                                                                  |
| 2009 |         | 循環器内科、呼吸器内科設置（旧第二内科）                  |             | Cardiovascular Medicine, Respiratory Medicine established (former No. 2 Internal Medicine)                                                    |
|      |         | 糖尿病・内分泌内科、腎臓内科設置（旧第三内科）               |             | Diabetes and Endocrinology, Department of Nephrology established (former No. 3 Internal Medicine)                                             |
|      |         | 消化器外科、乳腺・内分泌外科設置（旧第一外科）               |             | Digestive Surgery, Breast and Endocrine Surgery established (former No. 1 Surgery)                                                            |
|      |         | 心臓血管外科、呼吸器外科、小児外科設置（旧第二外科）            |             | Cardiovascular Surgery, General Thoracic Surgery, Pediatric Surgery established (former No. 2 DSurgery)                                       |
|      |         | 第9代病院長に島田眞路が就任                        |             | Shinji Shimada appointed ninth hospital director                                                                                              |
|      | 10月 1日  | 遺伝子疾患診療センター設置                         | October 1   | Center for Clinical Genetics established                                                                                                      |
|      | 11月 26日 | 院内助産施設開設（よつ葉ルーム）                      | November 26 | Hospital midwifery facility opened (Yotsuba Room)                                                                                             |
|      | 1月 24日  | 病院機能評価更新（Ver.6）（（財）日本医療機能評価機構）        | January 24  | Evaluation of Hospital Functions renewed (Ver. 6) (Japan Council for Quality Health Care)                                                     |
|      | 3月 24日  | 臨床研究連携推進部設置（旧治験センター）                  | March 24    | Clinical Trial Management Office established (former Clinical Trial Center)                                                                   |
|      | 3月 24日  | 東日本大震災被災地（宮城県南三陸町）に医療救護班派遣（～5月13日）    | March 24    | Medical care and relief team dispatched to area affected by Great East Japan Earthquake (Minamisanriku-cho, Miyagi Prefecture) (until May 13) |
| 2011 | 4月 1日   | NICU・GCU開設                            | April 1     | NICU and GCU opened                                                                                                                           |
|      |         | 606床に増床                               |             | Number of beds increased to 606                                                                                                               |
|      |         | 新生児集中治療部設置                            |             | Neonatal Intensive Care Unit established                                                                                                      |
|      |         | 臨床教育センター設置（旧卒後臨床研修センター、旧医師キャリア形成センター） |             | Clinical Education Center established (former Postgraduate Clinical Training Center, former Doctor Career Development Center)                 |
|      | 5月 1日   | 病理診断科設置                               | May 1       | Diagnostic Pathology established                                                                                                              |
| 2012 | 4月 1日   | 形成外科設置                                | April 1     | Plastic, Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgery established                                                                                     |
|      |         | 放射線治療科、放射線診断科設置（旧放射線科）                |             | Radiation Oncology, Diagnostic Radiology established (former Radiology Department)                                                            |
|      |         | 山梨DMA T指定病院に指定される                     |             | Hospital designated as "Yamanashi DMAT designated hospital"                                                                                   |
|      | 11日     | 附属病院再整備計画承認                           | April 11    | Hospital restructuring plan approved                                                                                                          |

|      |         |                                                           |              |                                                                                                                                                                     |
|------|---------|-----------------------------------------------------------|--------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|      | 7月 1日   | 循環器救急センター設置                                               | July 1       | Cardiovascular and Emergency Center established                                                                                                                     |
|      | 9月 10日  | 放射線治療棟竣工                                                  | September 10 | Construction of radiation therapy treatment building completed                                                                                                      |
| 2013 | 4月 1日   | 山梨県地域医療支援センター設置                                           | April 1      | Yamanashi Community Medicine Support Center established                                                                                                             |
|      | 5月 23日  | 山梨大学医学部附属病院新病棟（Ⅰ期）起工式を挙行                                  | May 23       | Ceremony held to celebrate start of construction of University of Yamanashi Hospital New Ward (Phase I)                                                             |
| 2014 | 5月 30日  | 融合研究センター竣工（融合研究臨床応用推進センター、シミュレーションセンター）                   | May 30       | Construction of Integration Research Center completed (Integration Research Clinical Application Promotion Center,Simulation Center)                                |
| 2015 | 4月 1日   | 総合診療部設置                                                   | April 1      | Department of General Medicine and Infection Control established                                                                                                    |
|      |         | 第10代病院長に藤井秀樹が就任                                           |              | Hideki Fujii appointed 10th hospital director                                                                                                                       |
|      | 6月 30日  | 山梨大学医学部附属病院新病棟（Ⅰ期）竣工                                      | June 30      | Construction of University of Yamanashi Hospital New Ward (Phase I) completed                                                                                       |
|      | 12月 26日 | 618床に増床                                                   | December 26  | Number of beds increased to 618                                                                                                                                     |
| 2016 | 4月 1日   | 臨床教育部設置（旧臨床教育センター）                                        | April 1      | Department of Clinical Education established (former Clinical Education Center)                                                                                     |
|      | 10月 1日  | リウマチ膠原病センター設置                                             | October 1    | Center for Clinical Immunology and Rheumatology established                                                                                                         |
| 2017 | 4月 1日   | 救急科設置                                                     | April 1      | Emergency and Critical Care Medicine established                                                                                                                    |
|      |         | アレルギーセンター設置                                               |              | Allergy Center established                                                                                                                                          |
|      |         | 医療の質・安全管理部設置（旧安全管理部）                                      |              | Department of Quality and Patient Safety established (former Department of Medical Safety Management)                                                               |
|      |         | 感染制御部設置                                                   |              | Department of Infection Control and Prevention established                                                                                                          |
|      |         | 第11代病院長に武田正之が就任                                           |              | Masayuki Takeda appointed 11th hospital director                                                                                                                    |
| 2018 | 3月 13日  | 山梨県と災害派遣精神医療チーム（DPAT）の派遣に関する協定を締結                         | March 13     | Agreement concerning dispatch of Disaster Psychiatric Assistance Team (DPAT) concluded with Yamanashi Prefecture                                                    |
|      | 4月 1日   | リハビリテーション科設置                                              | April 1      | Department of Rehabilitation Medicine established                                                                                                                   |
|      |         | IVRセンター設置                                                 |              | IVR Center established                                                                                                                                              |
|      |         | がんゲノム医療連携病院に指定される                                         |              | Hospital designated as "cancer genomic medical care cooperation hospital"                                                                                           |
|      | 6月 1日   | てんかんセンター設置                                                | June 1       | Epilepsy Center established                                                                                                                                         |
|      | 6月 5日   | アレルギー疾患医療拠点病院に指定される                                       | June 5       | Hospital designated as "Allergic disease medical base hospital"                                                                                                     |
|      | 10月 4日  | 山梨大学医学部附属病院新病棟（Ⅱ期）起工式を挙行                                  | October 4    | Ceremony held to celebrate start of construction of University of Yamanashi Hospital New Ward (Phase II)                                                            |
|      | 11月 1日  | 小児がん連携病院に指定される。（～令和5年3月31日）                               | November 1   | Hospital designated as "Pediatric cancer cooperation hospital"                                                                                                      |
|      | 3月 1日   | リウマチ膠原病内科設置                                               | March 1      | Department of Rheumatology established                                                                                                                              |
|      | 6月 30日  | 山梨大学医学部附属病院新病棟（Ⅱ期）竣工                                      | June 30      | Construction of University of Yamanashi Hospital New Ward (Phase II )completed                                                                                      |
| 2020 | 7月 1日   | 総合患者支援部設置（旧医療福祉支援センター、旧入院支援室）                             | July 1       | General Patient Support Division established                                                                                                                        |
|      | 8月 25日  | 特定行為研修指定研修機関に指定される                                        | August 25    | Hospital designated as "Training System for Nurses Pertaining to Specified Medical Acts designated training institutions"                                           |
|      | 9月 21日  | 旧棟西病棟から新病棟Ⅱ期棟西病棟へ移動                                       | September 21 | Moved from the West Ward of the old ward to the West Ward of the new Phase II ward                                                                                  |
|      | 10月 5日  | てんかん支援拠点病院に指定される                                          | October 5    | Hospital designated as "Epilepsy support base Hospital"                                                                                                             |
|      | 2月 1日   | 産後ウェルビーイングセンター設置                                          | February 1   | Postpartum Well-Being Center established                                                                                                                            |
|      | 4月 1日   | 第12代病院長に榎本信幸が就任                                           | April 1      | Nobuyuki Enomoto appointed 12th hospital director                                                                                                                   |
| 2021 |         | 総合支援部設置（旧総合患者支援部）                                         |              | General Support Division established                                                                                                                                |
|      | 6月 1日   | 医療情報部設置                                                   | June 1       | Department of Medical Information established                                                                                                                       |
|      | 7月 1日   | 総合がん診療部設置                                                 | July 1       | Comprehensive cancer treatment department established                                                                                                               |
|      | 1月 26日  | 脊椎脊髄センター設置                                                | January 26   | Center for spine and spinal cord established                                                                                                                        |
|      | 1月 28日  | シミックプラザ竣工                                                 | January 28   | CMIC PLAZA completed                                                                                                                                                |
| 2022 | 4月 1日   | 難病診療連携拠点病院に指定される                                          | April 1      | Hospital designated as "Intractable disease collaborative core hospital"                                                                                            |
|      | 6月 3日   | 病院機能評価認定 一般病院 3 < 3rdG:Ver.2.0 > （～R9.6.2）（（財）日本医療機能評価機構） | June 3       | Hospital receives accreditation based on Evaluation of Hospital Function Hospital Type3 < 3rdG:Ver.2.0 > (up to June 2,2027)(Japan Council for Quality Health Care) |
|      | 3月 1日   | 遺伝子疾患診療科設置                                                | March 1      | Clinical Genetics established                                                                                                                                       |
|      | 3月 3日   | 診療支援棟竣工式を挙行                                               | March 3      | Ceremony held to celebrate completion of Clinical Support Building                                                                                                  |
| 2023 | 4月 1日   | 第13代病院長に木内博之が就任                                           | April 1      | Hiroyuki Kinouchi appointed 13th hospital director                                                                                                                  |
|      | 11月 1日  | 子宮内膜症ケアセンター設置                                             | November 1   | Endometriosis Care Center established                                                                                                                               |
|      | 4月 1日   | はなみずきラウンジ（入院支援室）開設                                        | April 1      | HANAMIZUKI Lounge (Hospitalization Support Office) opened                                                                                                           |
|      | 5月 17日  | 初期救急医療センター設置                                              | May 17       | Primary Emergency Medical Center established                                                                                                                        |
| 2024 | 7月 4日   | 地域災害拠点病院に指定される                                            | July 4       | Hospital designated as "Disaster base hospital"                                                                                                                     |
|      | 4月 1日   | 山梨血小板研究センター設置                                             | April 1      | Yamanashi Platelet Research Center established                                                                                                                      |
|      |         | 働き方改革センター設置                                               |              | Work Style Reform Center established                                                                                                                                |
|      |         | 病床管理室設置                                                   |              | Bed Control Unit established                                                                                                                                        |
|      |         |                                                           |              |                                                                                                                                                                     |